The 1924 CMID indicates that the Target Bros. Coal Mine should be added to the 1923 CMID; however, no production statistics are included for either year. Additionally, it is not known if this mine was a new mine in 1923, or if it was in operation prior to that time. According to the 1925 CMID, this was a strip (surface) mine; however, it is listed on the 1924 WCB map as an underground mine, and it is listed in the 1929 and 1930 CMID reports as a drift (underground) mine. The last listing noted for this mine is in 1930; it is not known if the mine ceased operations following that year, or if it ceased reporting following 1930.
