Basic Data (excerpted from primary sources):

This mine is listed as an opening mine in 1917, and the 1918 SEBR indicates that only development work was being done in 1917 (i.e., apparently no coal was produced). No further listings were noted for the mine; however, Leonard et al. (1925) indicate that the Reigel Mine "is in the SW1/2 of sec. 3," which seems to indicate that the mine was still operating. It is not known when Leonard et al. were in the area--they may have been there prior to 1925, but it seems unlikely that they were there in 1917. It is possible that the mine continued to operate following its opening in 1917, but that it was not reported; no definite information was noted, and it is not known for how long the mine may have continued to be operated.
