Basic Data (excerpted from primary sources):

This mine is listed as a new mine in 1929. The mine was operated as a drift mine and reported continuously from 1930 through 1942; from 1943 through 1946 the mine was operated and reported as a slope mine. No listings were noted for the mine following the 1946 listing. Given the very low production reported for the mine in 1946, it does appear likely that the mine ceased to be operated at about that time; however, it is possible that the mine continued to be operated but was not reported, or that the mine was operated and reported under some other name.

Descriptive information pertaining to this mine is included in:

WCB Map:1939 (see Notes)	WCB Map:1961b(updated 1962,
WCB Map:1961a (see Notes)	1963, 1964, 1965 and 1966)
	(see Notes)

Notes:

The 1939 WCB map listed above actually delineates an "Alfred Hilde Coal Mine - Bismarck 023882," which is located at T154N, R97W, Section 17, SW, SE. Alfred Hilde was the superintendent of the Cedar Coulee Mine described above from 1930 through 1941; therefore, it has been assumed that the 1939 WCB map delineates the Cedar Coulee Mine described above.

Both 1961 WCB maps listed above actually delineate a Cedar Coulee Coal Mine No. 2, which is a separate mine from that described on these pages. However, both of these maps also delineate the former location of the "Rosenquist Lease - Bismarck 023882," at T154N, R97W, Section 17, SW, SE. This lease number (023882) is the same lease number listed on the 1939 WCB map of the Alfred Hilde Mine discussed above, the 1941 CMID Summary of Inspection indicates that Hilde's mine is in process of having a new operator, and the 1942 CMID lists a Rosenquist Coal Mine. Therefore, it has been assumed that Hilde's Cedar Coulee Mine became the Rosenquist Coal Mine in about 1941-1942.

A portion of a separate Cedar Coulee Mine (apparently sometimes known as Cedar Coulee Mine No. 2) also may be located at this Planning Unit and AML location.
